KAYAK FISHING

In the past several years kayak fishing has become a huge sport. People can be seen fishing from kayaks on coastlines, rivers, bays and inlets around the world. Anglers enjoy the quiet access offered by a kayak; they also appreciate the ease of transporting a kayak as opposed to a larger rowboat or powerboat. Popularity has grown in part due to the ease of entry into the sport. Especially compared to powerboats, fishing kayaks can be purchased inexpensively and have few maintenance costs. They can be stored in small spaces and launched quickly. Most designs offer great stability and ease of maneuverability. The new generation of twinhull (catamaran) kayaks recently introduced into the market is stable enough to enable both paddling and fishing in the standing position. Anglers don't have to remain in a seated position for hours on end, and increased visibility from the standing position means more fish. There are also kayaks propelled by flippers or propellers and a foot mechanism. These kayaks offer hands-free fishing and all the benefits associated. Some kayak manufacturers offer special models for fishing that are designed and accessorized for this sport, including specially-designed hatches, built-in rod holders, catch bags and equipment mounts.

KAYAK FISHING HIGH END

Advanced designs allow the kayak fisherman a comfortable place to stand and large space for storage.

JACKSON KAYAK - BIG TUNA

Just like the Tuna fish is a unique, powerful force in the ocean, the Big Tuna will also be a force to be reckoned with multiple never before seen features in the kayak fishing world. Leading the charge on these unique elements has to be the 'Tuna Tank,' which utilizes the water from beneath the boat to circulate into the bait tank keeping fish lively and fresh. The possibilities are endless - bring the kids on a trip and have them catch cool creatures and learn about them while in the tank; keep your catch alive to show it off to your friends later before you release it; keep your live bait alive and fresh. Jackson Kayak also brings the popular elite seats, and new 'Face time' seating!

JACKSON KAYAK - CUDAS

The Cuda is the answer to the big water fisherman's dream because it has both the speed needed to trek long distances quickly, and the rare ability to be stable for standing when you get to your destination. However, you may not want to stand because of the comfort of the elite hi/lo seat! The Cuda will introduce for the first time Jackson's rod tip cover, tackle stagers, fly rod stagers, safety flag, stand assist handle and a 26 inch center hatch that can have an insert to make it dry storage or a fish cooler big enough to fit a beautiful slot redfish! The optional hatch insert can be removed for easy access to the interior of the boat and for easy rod storage while on the water.
